

Will move the UP face untill the corner cubie is above the right position. Then it will do the move down algorithm so it will get to the right position